THE STORY

A love story. A loss. A painting left behind.

The Last Painting is a tragic romance set in the heart of Cape Town. Roy and Emily, a young couple married for just four years, are deeply in love—living each day in quiet bliss. Roy living his life as a contemporary artist and Emily fighting battles every day as a criminal law attorney. But their world is suddenly shattered when an incurable illness enters their lives, leading to a heartbreaking loss.

The Last Painting is not just about who we lose — it's about what it means to keep going after.

"Rather than focusing on who is lost, the story unfolds through the eyes of the one left behind."

WHY THIS MATTERS — TO ALL OF US

Our Stories. Our Screen.

SA anime fans consume global content every day. The Last Painting is the first story made for us, by us — set right here in Cape Town.

This Has Never Been Done in SA

No local anime studio. No local anime film. We're building something from scratch, and you can be part of it from day one.

Jobs for SA Creatives

70% of the production team will be South African — animators, writers, voice actors who finally have a home-grown project to work on.

Putting SA on the Global Anime Map

Target release on Netflix & Crunchyroll, with global promotion. SA storytelling reaching Japan, the UK, Australia, and beyond.

BE PART OF HISTORY

This isn't a donation. It's an investment.

This is more than support — it's your chance to help bring South Africa's first anime film to life. Community Founders receive exclusive access, recognition, and participation benefits tied to the success of the project.

This campaign is a community participation initiative intended to support the development of The Last Painting production project. Participation does not constitute public share ownership in Wonderr Studio or guarantee financial returns. Certain participation benefits may be governed by separate agreements and project terms.
